Status of the Application

The application was filed with original claims 1-13. An office action rejecting the claims was mailed on 5/30/2003. On 11/1/2004, applicant cancelled original claims 1-13 and presented new claims 14-23. A miscellaneous letter was mailed on 3/9/2006 indicating that the new claims were directed to an invention distinct and/or independent from that originally filed. Applicant filed a new amendment on 6/12/2006 cancelling claims 14-23 and adding new claims 24-32. Upon review of the entire application, examiner has determined that the subject matter of the new claims 24-32 contain distinct and independent subject matter which are restrictable.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 24-28,32, drawn to membrane segment, classified in class 424, subclass 424.
- II. Claims 29-31, drawn to surgical method for repairing cartilage defect, classified in class 128, subclass 898.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of group 1 and group 2 are related as product and process of use.

The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the product of group 1 may be used for treating an organ such as the heart or stomach.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: a membrane segment for treating cartilage defect and a membrane segment for treating internal organ. The species are independent or distinct because the membrane segment for the cartilage defect does not require the specific structure or function as the membrane segment used in treating internal organs.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Mr. Patrick Kelly on 10/14/2006 informing the applicant's representative of the above restriction requirement.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to DAVID J. ISABELLA whose telephone number is 571-272-4749. The examiner can normally be reached on MONDAY-FRIDAY.
